Yvette Cole

Harlem- New York

CONTRIBUTIONS

Yvette Cole is a certified Kindergarten teacher in Connecticut and, first time author. She was inspired to write Harriet's Dinner Party When she struggled to find a book to read to her class that was based on black history but still fun and engaging for younger audiences.

IMPACT IN THE WAY YOU THINK AND SEE THE WORLD

Yvette Cole's advocacy for implementing diversity, equity, and inclusion into school's daily curriculums supports an inclusive scope of American history - especially for young readers and K-5 curriculum

Jemar Tisby

Born in Chicago

CONTRIBUTIONS

Jemar Tisby is a New York Times bestselling author, national speaker, and public historian on a mission to deliver truths from the Black experience with depth and clarity

IMPACT IN THE WAY YOU THINK AND SEE THE WORLD

Jemar opened my eyes to comprehend better the history of racism in United States through richly-informed explorations, and clear paths forward to meaningful conversation and action for more anti-racist workplaces and communities

Black History Month

“February is Black History Month. This month-long observance in the US and Canada is a chance to celebrate Black achievement and provide a fresh reminder to take stock of where systemic racism persists and give visibility to the people and organizations creating change.”
